

LOOKING FOR THE RIGHT GRADUATE PROGRAM?

If you want to teach culturally, linguistically and ability diverse young children;
If you are interested in working with families; and
If you want hands-on experience with infants, preschoolers and early school-age children,

THEN

The UTEEM Early Childhood Education Program at George Mason University is designed for you!

UTEEM prepares early educators to work with culturally, linguistically and ability diverse young children (birth to grade three) and their families in a two-year, full-time program.

Key Features of the Program:

- ❖ Masters degree in education and Virginia licensure in three areas:
  - Early Childhood (Pre K-Grade 3)
  - Early Childhood Special Education (Birth-Five years)
  - English as a Second Language (PK-12th Grade)
- ❖ Coursework linked to ongoing internships in diverse school and community settings.
- ❖ Focus on the centrality of culture, social justice, and reflection for teaching and learning.
- ❖ Four semesters of internship placements in diverse settings.

For more information, contact:

Elaisa Sánchez Gosnell Ph.D.

(703) 993-2056

egosnell@gmu.edu

Ilham Nasser, Ph.D.

(703) 993-4916

inasser@gmu.edu

UTEEM Program Information:

- 1) <https://www.gmu.edu>
- 2) <http://gse.edu/programs/descriptions/ece>

Applications for Graduate Admissions:

- 1) <https://www.gmu.edu>
- 2) Sites of Interest

Options: Part-time and undergraduate enrollment. Undergraduates can apply these credits to satisfy the master's degree and triple licensure requirements under this program.